

Basic Maintenance

This one-day training course introduces the CONTEX system components and describes how they are interrelated. Trainees are taught to identify system bay components, understand the function of each, interpret LEDs, and move through the maintenance interface.

This course typically occurs at the conclusion of the installation process and is held at the equipment location.

This course is the prerequisite to the Advanced Maintenance training course.

TRAINING COURSE CONDITIONS

The course registration deadline for courses being held at the Compunetix training facility is fifteen business days in advance of the scheduled start date of the training course.

Compunetix reserves the right to reschedule any training course for which the course registration, at the time of the registration deadline, is less than the course minimum of two students for Maintenance Training courses and four students for the operator training courses. In such an event, the customer will be notified the course has been canceled at least three business days in advance of the scheduled start date of the training course. Should a course be canceled due to lack of participation, the customer will have the option of canceling the course registration purchase order or applying it to the next scheduled training course.

If the customer cancels any training course for which they were registered within seven business days of the scheduled start date of the training course, Compunetix will charge the customer 30% of the fee for the course.
